

Maybe we take our job too seriously.

Even when it's time to relax, we just can't seem to get our mind off of plastic. That's a good thing for our customers, who can always count on us to be knowledgeable, passionate and helpful in finding the right products. It's also the reason we continue to grow and expand our inventory of hard-to-find colors and sheet sizes. So the next time you need plastic, give us a call. You'll be surprised by what you find.
